

DIGITAL RESOURCES

The combined imprints of ABC-CLIO present a portfolio of resources developed to provide authoritative, accessible, and award-winning research and reference information in a digital format that is easy to access. ABC-CLIO's digital resources draw on that portfolio, providing a trustworthy, in-depth alternative to unverified and often unmanaged web and media sources, an alternative that challenges students to think critically and to develop conclusions. Our digital resources support enriched classroom instruction, while ensuring more effective research. To serve school, public, and academic libraries, ABC-CLIO embraces a 21st-century research philosophy, enabling its library partners to meet the changing needs of their students and patrons.

Moving forward, ABC-CLIO will focus on building new ways to deliver the authoritative content it is known for, in some cases presenting content in different formats for specific user groups. For example, the company is developing a version of the award-winning ABC-CLIO social studies databases appropriate for the higher education market. A new eBooks platform is on the horizon, as is a common platform for all ABC-CLIO and Greenwood databases. Authors and scholars from all ABC-CLIO imprints will provide material – some in the form of digital presentations, blogs, and podcasts – to share their expertise and opinion.

These new formats and initiatives will bring ABC-CLIO's quality content to a wider audience than ever before, with librarians, teachers, students, and library patrons able to access the information quickly and efficiently in ways that work best for them. ABC-CLIO is committed to meeting the needs of today's users and will continue to explore new information delivery vehicles in order to support its library partners for years to come.
