Executive Bios

Brenda Raker, CEO of U.S. Operations

Brenda Raker serves as Chief Executive Officer of U.S. Operations. She oversees strategic goals, operations, product development, and marketing, in conjunction with the Israel-based executive branch. Most recently, Brenda served as president of The Greaves Group, where she provided C-level consulting to top-tier educational technology companies, including Fourier Systems. Working with the Israel team, she helped launch the company's 1:1 computing solution, the Nova5000.

Dr. Barry Berman, Vice President, U.S. Operations

With experience in educational technology spanning 33 years, Dr. Berman heads the Fourier Systems Atlanta office. Previously, he taught physics at Wells college, where he became Associate Professor. He then served as Manager for Faculty Services for the University of North Carolina's Educational Computing Service. Dr. Berman also held several executive positions at Monroe Systems for Business, Wicat Systems, ACTV Interactive Television Company, Logal Software, and Riverdeep Interactive Learning.

Mr. Meir Gerner, President and CEO of the Industrial Division

Mr. Gerner established Fourier Systems in 1989 as an engineering services company. Previously, Meir founded MGS Ltd., where he still serves as a director. MGS partnered with British Aerospace Systems (BAE) and formed IIT Ltd., a company developing unique image processing products. Meir served more than 15 years as an engineer in the IDF Intelligence Forces and retired as a Lt. Colonel. He has more than 20 years of experience in large technical projects management. Mr. Gerner is also the chairman of the Board of Directors, responsible for the strategic development of the company.

Mr. Dov Bruker, CEO

Mr. Bruker joined Fourier Systems as an Electronics Engineer in 1991. He was the driving force behind the engineering services given by Fourier Systems to its customers and the major initiator of the current line of data acquisition and sensor products. Mr. Bruker is also a member of the Board of Directors.
